JOYCE TRIUMPHS AGAIN.

NEW YORKS OUTPLAY THE BALTI-MORES AT EVERY POINT.

By again defeating the Baltimores yesterday New Yorks took another jump toward third ace. The Cincinnatis were unable to play St. Joyce's men by only eighteen points. The locals are also thirty-eight points behind Hanlon's norm, and another victory to-day will make the tuation even more interesting. The Bostons snaged to beat the Brooklyns in the last ing and increased their percentage, so that hias won on another ball from the Washions and the Pittsburgs, by virtue of their ory over the Clevelands, passed both the the Brooklyns, and are now in fifth ce. Varus in Blinkers Wins the Surf Stakes and Rorescope Plays with His Field in the Grass Inaugural-Colonial Dame, Cleophus and Sun Up Other Leaders at the Finish.

Fully 7,500 persons were at the Coney Island Jockey Club's beautiful track yesterday afternoon to see a programme of six races run off. There were three stakes on the card, the Tidal, for three-year-olds, at one mile; the Surf, for two-year-olds, at five and a half furlongs, and the Grass Inaugural, for three-year-olds and upward, at six furlongs. The former went to the popular Baltimore turiman R. C. Hall, his good celt Buddha, by The Bard, out of Empress, getting home in front of Scottish Chieftain, Imperator, The Friar, and Elkins. Buddha is in the stable of Wyndham Walden and the same trainer furnished the winner of the Surf Stakes, A. H. & D. H. Morris's blg disappointment Varus, running in blinkers for the first time, defeating Great Bend, Wild Warrior, Mr. Baiter, Blarneystone, Corelli, and Hairpin. James R. Keene's three-year-old colt Horoscope by Amphion, dam Fair Vision, won the Grass Inaugural in the fast time of 1:13 1-5. The weather was delightfully cool and a pleasant relief to the thousands who fied from the sun-baked avenues of the metropolis. Scottish Chieftain and The Friar were penalized for previous winnings, and carried 127 pounds in the Tidal Stakes, as against 122 on Eikins and 117 each on Imperator and Buddha. Consequently the talent quickly decided that Buddha, whose record this year has been singularly consistent, would surely win, and break the long string of seconds and thirds placed to his credit this year. It was therefore even money 8 to 1 Scottish Chieftain, and 15 to 1 Imperator. It was currently reported that Elkins had worked a mile over the Bay track in 1:40, but it did not seem possible on his public form that the Brookdale colt could give Buddha five pounds and a beating. Imperator and Elkins stepped off in front shortly after the start and going the first half-mile in 48% seconds and the ive furlongs in 1:01 set a pace that was indeed a scorcher. Despite the warmth of the clip and the weight he had up, The Friar was fighting for his head and struggling under Littlefield's choking pull. Imperator began drawing away from Elkins on the upper turn, and soon Buddha took second place. For a short time in the homestretch it looked as though the stake would go to the Preakness candidate, but at the last furlong pole Huddha settled down to business and, passing Imperator, won cleverly by two lengths. Thorpe gave up the struggle too quickly with Imperator, for Taral, riding Scottish Chieftain out vigorously under whip and spur, anatched second money by a short head. Elkins cut it when he could not shake off imperator, and The Friar had nothing left after being kept in abeyance the first part of the journey. Mr. Hail ran over from Baltimore to see his cult win, and was a very proud man after the race.

Varus's last performance was so very poor that Wyndham Walden determined to try the big son of Cayuga with blinkers in the Surf Stakes yesterday. He accordingly put a hood on the good-looking colt, who sold equal favorito with Great Bend. The latter, Hairpin, and Mr. Balter were added starters, making a field of eight to go to the post. It was 3 to 1 Varus and Great Bend. 5 to 1 Chalmers, Bob Rose's big colt by Luke Blackburn, out of Lythe, 6 to 1 Wild Warrior and Mr. Balter, 8 to 1 Blarneysione, 20 to 1 Corcelli, and 30 to 1 Hairpin. Varus, setting a terrific clip all the way, won, staggering, by a length from Great Bend, who beat Wild Warrior half a length for second money. Had the race been at six furlongs Wild Warrior would probably have won, as he was running faster than any of the others at the wire. The other startors, barring Mr. Balter, were beaten several lengths.

Hugh Penny was favorite at 7 to 5 for the Grass Inaugural Stakes, with Horoscope accond choice at 3's to 1, and Eumpy Slope at 5 to 1 the most supported of the others. Sloan got a running start with Horoscope, and making the best of his advantage won pulling up in the fast time of 1: a scorcher. Colonial Dame, from L. S. & W. P. Thompson's string, was favorite for the race for maiden two-vear-old fillies exclusively, even money being the prevailing quotation at the close of speculation. There was a field of eighteen, but Augustus Clason's Cavatina, by imp, Whistle Jacket, out of Kara, ran through the funce at the post, injuring herself so severely that she will probably be destroyed. Jilted, who was first away, and, with Inspection and the Woodford filly close up, made the running until well into the final sixteenth, where Tod Slean, who rede the favorite, got through from the ruck, where had been pocketed, and won a good race by haif a length. HARVARD'S BASEBALL SERIES. The Crimson Team Befonts Vale's Nine for the

has been disastrous for Yale, as Harvard celebrated her second victory over the Blue at Vale field this afternoon by the score of 10 to 8. It was a good game and was witnessed by scores of pretty women and hundreds of brave men. cheers for the teams were incessant, against which six brass bands were as nothing. The Harvard contingent was rather small, but it was lusty and full of endurance. Previous to the game the classes headed by bands marched across the field amid wild tumult. Fully 6,000 persons saw the game. Yale's old pitcher, Stagg, appeared on the field and was wildly cheered by the many graduates who recognized him. In the first inning Harvard scored, being first at the bat. Rand, after taking a base on balls, stole second, took third on a wild pitch, and on a throw to second he came home. In her half of a throw to second accame nome. In her half of the inning Yale failed to score. In the second Harvard scored three runs, all on errors. The Yale bleachers were slient, and the little Har-vard contingent howled until it could howl no more. Yale secured one run in this inning on a three-bagger by Greenway, who scored on a blocked ball. Goose eggs were recorded for both sides in the third.

SHORT CABLES FOR SAFETY.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH TACKLES DEAD MAN'S CURVE.

The Sanitary Superintendent Advises Putting in Three Short Cables at Three Curres-A Resolution Offered to Limit the Speed of Cars on the Curves to Two Miles an Hour. At the regular meeting of the Board of Health yesterday the following communication from Dr. Charles F. Roberts, the Board's Sanitary Superintendent, was received:

Superintendent, was received:

I would respectfully call your attention to the continued number of accidents and loss of life due to the high rate of speed at which the cable cars of the Metropolitan Traction Company are run from East Fourteenth street and Union souare to East Fifteenth street, at the junctions of West Fifty-thrd street, Seventh and Ninth avenues, and at Broadway and State street. This, in my opinion, is due to the fact that the grip must firmly grasp the cable, and therefore the car must be propelled at the maximum rate at which the cable is run. As long as this rate of speed is maintained at these points accidents will occur and human life will be imperilled.

The reason it is required to pass around these curves at the maximum speed is that if the grip were open so as to allow the cable to sip, the great tension would puil the cable out of the grip. This tension of the cable is due to four factors:

First.—The length of the cable.

First.—The length of the cable. Second.—The number of curves on road. Third.—The number of cars on the cable. Fourth.—The length of radius of the curves.

Fourth.—The length of radius of the curves.

The cable upon which the cars are run in passing the curves at Fourteenth street and Union Square and Fifteenth street extends from Houston street to Thirty-sixth street and return. There are eight curves and many cars attached to the cable.

The cable upon which the cars are run in passing the curves at West Fifty-third street. Seventh and Ninth avenues, extends from Fiftieth street and Seventh avenue to 110th street and Columbus avenue and return. There are two curves on the line and many cars attached to the cable.

The cable upon which the cars are run in passing the curve at State street and Broadway exing the curve at State street and Broadway ex-the cable.

The cable upon which the cars are run in passing the curve at State street and Broadway extends from Houston street and Broadway to the Battery and return. There are five curves and many cars attached to the cable.

At Twenty-third street and Lexington avenue and Twenty-third street and Heradway the cars pass around the curves at a slow rate of speed because the tension of the cable is low. The grimman can open the cable at this point so as to allow the cable to slip, without fear of its being pulled out of the grip, and with the aid of the brake even to stop the car on the curve without losing the cable. This cable extends from Twenty-fifth street and Broadway and return. There are only two curves and but few cars attached to the cable.

In order to obviate the running of the cars at the high rate of speed at the four points designated shorter cables should be substituted at these various points in the same manner as the cable running from Twenty-fifth street and Lexington avenue to Twenty-second street and Hroadway and return. These should be as follows:

lows:

From Thirteenth to Sixteenth streets, Broadway and Union square and return.

From Fifty second street and fewenth avenue to Fifty-fourth street and Ninth avenue and return.

From the westerly side of Broadway around Bowling Green and return.

the Green and roturn.

These, in my opinion, if constructed, would accomplish the desired end. Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES F. ROBERTS.

San. Superintendent.

Following the reading and filing of the communication, Police Commissioner Moss, who, by virtue of his office, is a member of the Board of Health, offered the following resolution:

No conductor, driver, or gripman of any railroad car or other vehicle running on tracks in the city of New York, shall allow or cause the same to be pulled, drawn, or propelled on or around any curve or any public street or avenue at a greater rate of speed than two miles an hour. And no director, President, superintendent, or other person who is interested in, or who owns or controls any such car or vehicle, shall permit it to be so pulled, drawn, or propelled. This section of the Sanitary Code is adopted for the purpose of preventing accidents by which life or health may be endangered.

In the usual custom of the board, action on Health, offered the following resolution: In the usual custom of the board, action on FIREBUG BLUM PLEADS GUILTY. Son Paint in Court.

Max Blum, the last of the Schoenholz gang of rebugs to come within the pale of the law. aused a sensation yesterday in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court by declaring that ing himself on the mercy of the court. He was tried two weeks ago on the same charge, that of employing Morris Schoenhols to set fire to the store of Rosner & Sieinlaus, at 697 Broadway, on Aug. 24, 1894. The jury disagreed. When Bium pleaded guilty yesterday he fainted in his chair. His son David, who was sitting at his side, collapsed about the same time. A minute later the son recovered, but it was five minutes before the old man could be brought around.

Justice Fursman said that Blum's evident attempt to excite sympathy would avail him nothing, but since he had already been in prison several months awaiting trial and since the District Attorney recommended him to mercy of the Court, a light sentence would be imposed. Justice Fursman sentenced Blum to one and one-half tried two weeks ago on the same charge, that KEEPING OUT OUR TREES. Proposed Legislation in Canada to Prohibit Certain Imports.

OTTAWA, June 29 .- The Dominion Government purposes at once to introduce a measure in Parliament to prohibit the importation from the United States of trees and shrubs and certain classes of fruits. It is asserted that the introduction of the serious peat, the San José introduction of the serious peat, the San José scale, is the result of such importations from the United States. A convention of the horticultural societies was held at Hamilton last week to urge the necessity of taking legislative action to prevent the spread of the San José scale among the fruit orchards.

If the proposed legislation is enacted, nursery trees from the United States will be excluded from Canada; and, as the scale also affects fruit, the fruit growers demand that the importation from infected States of fruit shall be prohibited also.

The murderer was dead after the first contact, which lasted only twenty-five seconds. The other two contacts were brief and were made to render death beyond doubt. A TRIBUTE TO TILDEN.

McKelway's Speech Before St. Lawrence Unb versity.

CANTON, N. Y., June 29,-The thirty-seventh annual commencement of the St. Lawrence University is in progress here this week. Many alumni are in town and the commencement is the most successful one the university has ever bad. On Monday evening, under the direction of Prof. Hardie, the students of the Latin department presented the "Mostellaria" of Plautus in Latin. This evening the annual address before ment presented the "Mostellaria" of Plautus in Latin. This evening the annual address before the alumni association was delivered by St. Clair McKelway on "Makers of Modern America." To-morrow morning the commencement exercises will be held in the Town Hall. In his address to-day Mr. McKelway paid this tribute to Samuel J. Tilden:

"He was called to the great duty of governing a State and of being the leader of a party in a contest for the Presidency to which his friends aver and his opponents well right concede he was elected. But he was called to the greater duty of reforming public abuses, pursuing public malefactors, making them disgorge public plunder, and by that duty a great political organizat on was rehabilitated in its functions, both as an opposition party and as a party for government, and we are laying this flower of tribute and of justice upon his green grave to-day, at a time when that party, never so much as now, needed a man his equal in mental outsight and in moral insight, and, if may be, his superior in directness of statement and in directness of method. But let not this qualified criticism go to record without the grateful recognition that upon him was conferred the unique honor of ending a wrong and of renouncing a claim which, if resented in the one case and if carried to final assertion in the other, would have involved not the disappointment of a party which could afford to wait, not the defeat of a man who could afford to wait, not the defeat of a man who could afford to wait, not the defeat of a man who could afford to lose, but the renewal, upon a case of disputed title, all over this nation, and not in a mere see to wait, not the defeat of a man who could afford to lose, but the renewal, upon a case of disputed title, all over this nation, and not in a mere section of it, of a civil war within eleven years after another civil war had been wared around the question of State secession and of human rights. His self-effacing particisism should never be forgotten. The problem of disputed title which the treatment of him placed in our public life is the greatest problem and the greatest peril of our institutions. It can, however, be effectively disposed of by making politics pure, by keeping suffrage undefied, by rendering elections homest, counts truthful, and public discussion and agitation constant. These objects kept in view, the future will be as secure as, in this man's time, it was ominous, and us, to our shame, in our times it still seems ominous."

"GOD BLESS BOB COOK."

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 29 .- The first event in the Yale commencement exercises to-day was the annual alumni meeting. It began at 10 o'clock In attendance were eleven members of the class Republic, presided. He reviewed briefly the close historical relations of Yale and the Hawaiian Islands, and said that examinations for Yale were now given in Hawaii. He referred to Hawaii as a growing and promising community, and said the Hawaiians did not expect to long Americans under the Stars and Stripes. Charles I. Wood, 32, Washington, and the oldest gradu-Americans under the Stars and Stripes. Charles L Wood, 32, Washington, and the oldest graduate at the meeting, next spoke.

The Rev. David J. Burrell, 'e7, of New York city, in speaking for his class took occasion to refer to college boating. He said:

"We don't care about the country colleges, God bless Bob Cook and the Cook stroke. Thas is a good prayer for any Yale minister to utter. We didn't import any coaches and we didn't get up any cheer that ran, 'Rab, Hah, Rah,'God save the Queen!' but we got there before Harvard did. And I want to say that if Harvard confers a degree on Lehmann I want to see one conferred and that modest member of '67 who stands behind Hob Cook, George A. Adee."

The medical school exercises were held to-day, Prof. William M. Polk of New York delivered the address of the day, his subject being "How to Work." This noon the graduates began balloting for the vacancy in the Yale corporation caused by the expiration of the term of Edward G. Mason of Chicago, Mr. Mason's name was put up, and there did not appear to be any opposition to him. The result of the election will be announced to-morrow. The senior german and the glee and banjo concerts were held to-night.
